Chatterboxes: practical resources to support communication

An interactive and practical course, developing knowledge, ideas and strategies to support children's early language and communication.

Communication skills are so important for our children's learning and social interaction. All children benefit from activities and support to develop these crucial life skills. In addition, many children will come into the setting with limited language and social interaction skills and need additional support.

In times when budgets are tight, we want to support settings to make the best use of resources they have available to create a practical toolkit of strategies to support early communication.

The Course Aims to enable participants better support early language and communication and improve outcomes for children by developing knowledge of practical strategies, facilitating the creation of your own "Chatterbox toolkit".

After attending participants will be able to:

- Implement key principles for supporting language and communication.
- Understand how to ensure a communication friendly environment.
- Implement practical ideas and activities to carry out in the setting.
- Create their own Chatterbox Toolkit of language activities.
- Use a range of strategies for working with parents.
