Sounds Right is a programme of work designed to support the phonological awareness skills of children between the ages of 3 and 6. It provides activities and materials for working with small groups of children to support the underlying phonological awareness skills important for speech sound development and phonics skills.

Contents

- Guidance with background information and assessment checklists.
- Over 50 Phonological Awareness activities.
- Word learning Activities.
- Detailed session plans.
- Picture materials.
- Memory stick of pictures and activity resources.

“We are starting to see improvements in the children already!”

Our pack

- Phonological Awareness is the ability to discriminate and manipulate sounds.
- It includes interactive games and activities supporting children to develop phonological awareness skills.
- Practice for learning vocabulary.
- Activities for working with groups and individuals.
- Guidance and assessment guidelines.

“You can see the progress on her speech and it’s even impacting on her phonics – she’s moved to a higher group.”

The evidence

These skills are fundamental foundation skills for many children with unclear speech.

Phonological Awareness is also an important and reliable predictor of later reading ability.

Supporting language and phonological awareness benefits reading.
